Background

Jill Barry is a member of the Office Times Team at the Walnut Creek Colliers International office. Prior to joining Colliers International, Jill was an Assistant General Manager for the Fastenal Company in Livermore, selling industrial and construction supplies. As part of our team, Jill acts as a Project Associate, ensuring that marketing materials are prepared, correctly, on-time and on-budget, coordinating the Officetimes.com web updates, helping coordinate our multi-market transactional management account, producing the Corporate Real Estate Perspectives now in its 24th year of publication and distributed to thousands of commercial real estate professionals worldwide, coordinating various promotions and client events, and making sure that our client service is of the highest quality possible.

Jill was raised and has lived in the Contra Costa area for most of her life. Jill's hobbies include wake boarding, scuba diving, traveling, and playing softball.

Education

Bachelor of Arts Degree in Communication Studies in 2001 from California State University, Chico.
